Wilson Urges Defeat of Lodge Resolution

GARFIELD HANDS GOVT. ULTIMATUM TO MINE FACTIONS

Tells Operators and Miners Government Will See That Coal Is Mined.

DECLARES PUBLIC NEEDS AID SHALL HAVE COAL FOR FUEL

Fuel Administrator Will Tell What Increase Will Be Permitted.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Senate committees of bituminous miners and operators in the central competitive field went into executive session today to negotiate a wage contract, after Federal Administrator Garfield had urged upon them in necessary for adjusting their differences and producing the coal the country needs.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Speaking with the authority of President Wilson's cabinet, Fuel Administrator Garfield told representatives of the bituminous coal operators and miners here today that "the people of the United States need, must have, and will have coal, and as long as the government stands they will not be prevented from getting it by anything the operators or miners may do."

Dr. Garfield explained that his purpose was to furnish the conference with the data which he would use in determining what wage advance, if any, agreed to by the operators and miners could be borne properly by the public. Immediately after convening the operators and miners decided to continue their negotiations through a subcommittee of eight from each side.

"I represent the people of the United States in a different sense from the secretary of labor," Dr. Garfield said. "It is part of Mr. Wilson's function to effect conciliation. It is my sole function to exercise those powers conferred on the fuel administration, to see that an adequate supply of coal is furnished the people of the United States and to see that in times of stress such as we are still unhappily in the midst of the prices asked and received for coal are not excessive."

"We all realize now that in the great coal industry the public is an important partner. At one time the operators and mine workers were peculiarly independent. But the public has a paramount interest. The people of the United States will not consent to pay an excessive price for coal. We are all agreed on that but the question now is 'what is an excessive price?' Nor will the public agree to go without this commodity."

"The people of the United States are willing to pay like prices for coal as the American standards, but the question is what are American standards? The

OHIO VETERANS RAID RED DEN

Headquarters of Radical Socialists in Cincinnati Entered Early Today and Bonfire Made of Pamphlets.

Cincinnati, Nov. 19.—Mayor John Galvin today severely censured the conduct of the members of the Robert Bentley post of the American Legion, who raided the headquarters of the Socialist party here last night and burned a quantity of supposed radical literature.

The mayor designated the raid as mob rule and asserted that it showed a lack of patriotism and civic spirit. He also said that he would investigate the failure of the police to intervene while the raid was in progress.

Cincinnati, Nov. 19.—Members of the American Legion, numbering more than 300, led by their officers, descended upon socialist headquarters in this city late last night and threw hundreds of pounds of radical literature into the streets. A bonfire was started and the literature burned. No one was in the building when the raid was made. Carrying out their plans with secrecy, following a meeting at the club rooms of the soldiers organization in the city, the legionnaires were passed in the vicinity of the Socialist headquarters at 1:30 o'clock. At the appointed time, men came from the surrounding district and proceeded to invade the building. Most of the literature burned had been printed for the communist labor party of America. Other pamphlets were issued by the Socialist Revolutionary society, Brooklyn, and by the American working men from the Socialist Republic Society written by Nikolai Lunin. Another pamphlet was headed "An open letter to President Wilson" and was written by Joseph W. Sharts, Dayton, Ohio, counsel for Eugene V. Debs in his trial at Cleveland. A large American flag found in the assembly hall was taken by the invading former service men. Police officials said they had taken no names nor had they recognized any of the raiders.

Lockhart, who are declared to be the owners of the whiskey and to have attempted to evade payment of the government floor tax. Six hundred cases in all were seized. The seized liquor weighed eight and one half tons.

STATE ATTORNEYS CONFER WITH FEDERAL OFFICIALS

Fourteen Are Charged With Complicity In Killing Ex-Soldiers.

Centra, Wash., Nov. 19.—The series of disorders that began here Armistice day when persons said to be I. W. W. fired on a parade of American Legion members and other former service men, killing four and wounding others, passed into its second phase today when steps toward speedy prosecution of those under arrest were taken. Poses searching for men wanted in connection with their crimes were reduced in size, all but two or three of the accused having been taken into custody. In Tacoma a conference of county prosecuting attorneys with representatives of the state attorney general and United States district attorney's offices, discussed in detail plans for bringing to trial immediately nearly 500 men held in the state of Washington, accused of syndicalism. Most of these men are industrial workers of the world and it is upon this membership that the charges are based.

At Chehalis, county seat of this county, charges of complicity in the killings here were filed against 14 men and one woman, supplementing like charges filed against a dozen others at Centra several days ago. Bert Bland, to capture whom posess have made their greatest effort, was taken without resistance late yesterday near independence.

An inquest into the death of John Haney, killed in a fight with other persons, who each of two groups mistook the other for fugitives, found Haney was killed accidentally.

It was stated at the governor's office that the state has no control over prices and that the matter can best be handled through federal authorities.

NOTED BANDIT IS SOUGHT BY POSSE

William Carlisle Who Escaped From Prison Robs Passengers on Train Near Cheyenne Last Night.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Seven armed posses and a troop of cavalry today were searching for a bandit who shot through the hills and brush land in a wide area around Medicine Bow for William Carlisle, notorious bandit, who last night outwitted his pursuers, robbed passengers on a Union Pacific train of $250 and escaped into the darkness, wounded by a shower of bullets.

Carlisle boarded the train at Rock River, entered a tourist sleeper by smashing a hole in the window, fired shot through the roof of the car to terrify passengers and forced all but "old men, women, children, soldiers and sailors" to contribute.

"I do not rob these," he told the passengers. As Carlisle stood in the vestibule, waiting for the train to stop, a passenger fired at close range and the bandit is believed to have been hit.

Passengers were positive from description that the bandit was Carlisle who escaped from the state prison at Rawlins, last Saturday and railroad officials from other evidence were equally sure that the train bandit who terrorized travelers through this state in 1916 is responsible for last night's robbery.

Within a few hours of the robbery, posses had been sent into the Medicine Bow district where the bandit left the train, from Cheyenne, Saratoga, Medicine Bow, Wheatland, Rock River and Rock Springs.

Carlisle was captured in 1916 following a series of train robberies and sentenced to prison for life. He was considered a model prisoner, buying liberty bonds and subscribing to the Red Cross bonds and savings. Because of this his sentence was commuted to 25 to 50 years last September.

Carlisle is said to have boasted that he could escape from prison any time he desired. Saturday he was hidden in a box of shirts which left the prison shirt factory. The box was delivered to the Union Pacific freight house, where Carlisle sawed his way out. He obtained civilian clothing from a sheep herder and stole ammunition and weapons from cabins.

BRITISH PUNISH ORIENTAL THUGS

Airmen Drop Five Tons of Bombs on Villages Near Indian Border When Natives Ignore Ultimatum.

London, Nov. 19.—Three villages of Afghanistan just beyond the northwestern frontier of India, were bombed November 13 by 25 British airmen who dropped five tons of explosives, according to advices from India today. The chairman have continued the operation daily with good results, the machines returning from each flight without a casualty, notwithstanding heavy anti-aircraft fire.

The order for the bombardment was issued November 12 after the Mahsuds had failed to comply with the terms laid down in the British ultimatum late in October, in which the traders were informed that unless they discontinued their attacks on British posts and convoys and their raids into their territory they would be subjected to an intense aerial bombardment.

The British airmen were instructed to bombard the villages of Kaniguram, Mafkin and Marob.

The Waziri tribesmen in the same district were similarly notified in the ultimatum accompanied an advance column at Dalka Krel, brought supplies and apologized for their misdeeds.

Hartford—Twenty-six alleged radicals, including woman, taken in raid here.

ACTION PRECIPITATES SHARP DEBATE WHEN THE CRISIS IS REACHED

ARGUMENTS IN SENATE STILL IN PROGRESS AT 3 O'CLOCK WITH NO INDICATION OF WHEN VOTE WILL COME.

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS CLAIM ENOUGH VOTES TO BEAT TREATY FOES

Senator Lodge Declares President's Letter Will Not Force Senate To Act Contrary To Its Judgment—Says Amendments Americanized Paris Pact.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Defeat of the Lodge resolution of ratification on the peace treaty was urged by President Wilson in a letter to Administration Leader Hitchcock which was laid today before a conference of Democratic senators. The president said the resolution did not provide for ratification, "but rather for the nullification of the treaty."

Immediately the president's letter became public Republican Leader Lodge declared he did not believe the senate would "obey the orders" of the president, "who undertakes to command the senate to ratify the treaty without the resolutions which Americanized and made it safe for the United States."

At 3 p. m. the senate still was engaged in debate on the Lodge resolution of ratification with no indication that a vote was in immediate prospect.

The committee program, the President wrote, would provide not for ratification "but rather for the nullification of the treaty expected to hold a conference before the final votes on the Lodge resolution of ratification and that they would be glad to receive a word of counsel from me."

"My Dear Senator: 'You were good enough to bring me word that the Democratic senators supporting the treaty expected to hold a conference before the final votes on the Lodge resolution of ratification and that they would be glad to receive a word of counsel from me.' I assume that the senators all desire my judgment upon the all important question of the final vote on the resolution containing the many reservations of Senator Lodge. On that I cannot hesitate, for in my opinion the resolution, in that form does not provide for ratification but rather for the nullification of the treaty. I sincerely hope that the senate will vote against the treaty will vote against the Lodge resolution of ratification."

"I understand that the door will probably then be open for a genuine resolution of ratification."

"I trust that all true friends of the treaty will refuse to support the Lodge resolution."

"Cordially and sincerely yours, 'Woodrow Wilson.'"

The President's reference to an opportunity to vote on a "genuine" ratification resolution referred to the plans of the Democrats to get action on an unreserved resolution which would provide such an opportunity.

The Democratic leaders, however, say they have been promised a chance to vote on an unreserved resolution before the committee resolution comes to the floor and should the latter fail they expect the mid group to bring the committee draft back before the senate on a motion to reconsider. In the latter eventuality their plan to the voters a 25-year franchise which provides for resumption of car service on a cost plus plan.

Details of the ordinance were announced as providing for straight five-cent fare with one cent extra for a transfer. The rate of fare when the cars were withdrawn on November 8 by Henry L. Doherty, was six cents and two cents for a transfer.

Frank B. Coates, president of the company, said today that with the granting of a franchise the company can borrow money much more cheaply than it could with no rights in the streets. He declared also that which re-routing and elimination of useless lines cost of operation might be reduced.

Professor Henry E. Riggs of Ann Arbor and Frederick W. Bellard of Cleveland, appointed valuers of the company's property by Mayor, Cornell Schreiber, have reported no progress. They will be paid out of the fund of $25,000 that Mr. Doherty volunteered to advance for preliminary expenses.

It is believed that it will require a month at least to arrive at a valuation that will be agreeable alike to the city and company. The valuers must make a detailed and technical appraisal of the tracks, overhead, equipments, pavement between the tracks and the cars parked along the shores of Lake Erie in Michigan, it is said.

When this is done it is planned to submit two ordinances to the voters, one for municipal ownership and the other for the Taylor plan now operating in Cleveland.

The conference between city and company officials which began several days ago has resulted in nothing indicating settlement, Mayor Schreiber reported.

Oil Producer In Cabin
Creek District Sets New
Record For Producing—

Owned by the Ohio Cities Gas company, the well exceeded 100,000 barrels on the anniversary of armistice day. Drilled at a cost of $11,189, it was shot June 26, 1917, and up to November 11 had produced in money $406,279.97, and probably will continue at a $500 a day rate, as it averages above 1000 barrels and the posted price of the Cabin Creek oil is $5.07 a barrel. The remarkable well was shot only once, has never been pumped and has been cleaned out only six times. In its lifetime the well promises to establish several more records among wells of the eastern oil fields.

Interest in the oil and gas finds in Licking and adjoining counties continues but the activity in the field is threatened by a lack of fuel, owing to the scarcity of coal. Many of the wells where operations have stopped were being watched with interest as they were test runs for new territory.

A government was formed recently in Reval with the consent of the allies. At the head of it is President Minister Lianzow.

Dr. Garfield said he was not yet prepared to say what changes could reasonably be made in the price of coal as all the necessary data was not in hand. One of the items not yet determined, he said, was that of the federal income taxes for 1918, which the operators have claimed should be included in the cost of operation. The government has disputed this.

COAL RESERVE WANES; SEEK TO SAVE SUPPLY

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The growing menace of the coal situation was the subject today of further discussion by Walker D. Hines, federal director general of railroads, and seven regional directors. Possible action talked about included a further reduction in passenger train service and shutting off coal from non-essential industries.

Mr. Hines indicated he would issue a statement after the meeting regarding steps to be taken to conserve the coal supply now available.

"What we will consider is what means can be employed, by elimination of consumption except where it is indispensable, to conserve our coal reserve," said Mr. Hines.

Meanwhile reports from virtually all sources were of a vanishing supply of bituminous coal as the approximately 400,000 miners remained firm in their disposition to await announcement of an agreement by the apparently deadlocked miners-operators conference at Washington.

Of the great union fields only West Virginia reported an appreciable amount of fuel brought out. It being 75 percent of the mines in that state was being operated.

An immediate prospect of a declaration of military control in the mining districts of Iowa, with state operation of mines; a strike of returned miners in Wyoming, said to have been due mainly to activities of anticrafts and withdrawal of federal troops from West Virginia marked main developments in the mining districts during the last 24 hours.

The regional directors generally informed Mr. Hines that the railroads had sufficient fuel for several days, the statement of the central west director being an exception.

No general freight embargo will be considered, Mr. Hines said, adding that restricting the fuel supply of non-essential industries in itself would sharply curtail freight shipments.

CUT COAL SUPPLY TO NON ESSENTIAL PLANTS

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 19.—All supplies of bituminous coal from the docks at the head of the lakes to industries in Duluth and Superior and to industries over the northwestern region, as non-essential were cut off under an order issued this morning by E. B. Brigham, chairman of the coal distribution committee, and W. H. Groverman, United States fuel administrator.

COAL PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 19.—Coal production in the Kanawha field yesterday showed an increase of 15,000 tons over the best previous day since the strike in the mines was called and operators expected an even better record for today.

The mines are operating far below normal, however, as yesterday's tonnage totaled 26,350 tons against a normal tonnage of 70,000.

ARMY GOODS NOT YET RECEIVED BY MAYOR

The army goods for the municipal store have not yet arrived from the army supply depot at Columbus and as a consequence the store cannot be opened tomorrow. If the goods arrive this afternoon or tomorrow morning it is probable that the store will be opened Friday. Mayor Atherton will give due notice when the goods will be placed on sale. There were 10 or 12 people at the West Main street room where the goods are to be sold, early this morning and scores of telephone calls are received daily. Definite announcement will be made of opening day.

now, when senators are bound by pledges, a resolution of unreserved ratification.

Senator Hitchcock added that after a vote on the Lodge resolution he would be glad to get unanimous consent to offer a resolution of unqualified ratification.

Senator Lodge said if the Democrats did not desire to vote at once on unqualified ratification he would withdraw his request.

"There have been no pledges by senators," Senator Lodge added. "The reservations were adopted by free, unadvised will of the senators, and they will not be modified by any talk of withdrawal."

Senator Smith, Democrat, Georgia, opening the debate, said he "declined to allow his views to be controlled by any one else."

"I shall vote for the resolution and the reservations that have been presented though I would be gratified in many respects to see them changed," he said.

Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, of the irreconcilable group, said if present defeat of the treaty could not be accomplished he desired to make it as acceptable as possible.

Senator Lodge asked that President Wilson's letter advising administration Democrats to vote against the Lodge ratification program be printed in the record, adding:

"I think comment is superfluous."

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, said he would vote against the resolution not because of the President's letter but because of the labor provisions.

Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, said enemies of the treaty had succeeded "temporarily at least, in accomplishing indirectly what they could not do openly," adding:

"They have planned to alienate the nations who were our allies in the war. Yet senators who say they want the treaty, he said, 'are aiding in this plan which gives only comfort to those who want to see the treaty killed.'"

Four prime objections to the Lodge resolution were raised by Senator Robinson: the preamble, the shipping provisions, that regarding article 10 of the league covenant and for withdrawal from the league.

The friends and not the enemies of the treaty," said the senator, "should dictate the terms of ratification."

If the Lodge reservations were adopted, Senator Robinson said, the President "probably" would refuse to negotiate it.

"If he should make the attempt," he added, "it is plain that our self-respecting allies would not accept."

Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois, announced he would have to "part company" with some of his Republican associates and vote against the ratification resolution.

The treaty and the reservations proposed, Senator Sherman said, for a "charter for an international homicide club" that will convert Europe into a legalized cockpit and provide no maximum justice and write no code of law for the nations.

"Our delegation in gay Paree," said Senator Sherman, "lost their characters and our money, but escaped with their lives and a deleted copy of the League of Nations."

Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee said he resented inferences that he and other Democrats had done anything wrong in promising to support the committee reservation program.

"I am pledged to support these reservations," he said. "I took that pledge when I appeared at the bar of the senate and took the oath of office as a senator to uphold the constitution of the United States."

Republican leaders said they would endeavor to prevent consideration of any substitute resolution from the minority, but would agree to reconsideration of the first vote on the Lodge resolution.

Senator Lodge said that on reconsideration the majority resolution would be presented without modification and Republican spokesmen insisted that should it be defeated on the second and final vote they would consider it a defeat of the treaty.

Republicans of the "mild reservation" group declared the president's letter had blocked the movement to effect a compromise and said most of their group would stand behind the majority leader.

Republican leaders said only 28 Democrats had agreed to vote against the majority resolution and that in the Democratic conference today, a number of Democrats advised that Hitchcock they would not vote against ratification.

Oil Producer In Cabin
Creek District Sets New
Record For Producing—
Has Never Been Pumped.

Producing more dollars, if not more barrels of oil, than any well in the Berea sand is No. 88 in the Cabin Creek district, West Virginia. Owned by the Ohio Cities Gas company, the well exceeded 100,000 barrels on the anniversary of armistice day. Drilled at a cost of $11,189, it was shot June 26, 1917, and up to November 11 had produced in money $406,279.97, and probably will continue at a $500 a day rate, as it averages above 1000 barrels and the posted price of the Cabin Creek oil is $5.07 a barrel. The remarkable well was shot only once, has never been pumped and has been cleaned out only six times. In its lifetime the well promises to establish several more records among wells of the eastern oil fields.

COAL SHORTAGE MAY STOP DRILLS

Interest in the oil and gas finds in Licking and adjoining counties continues but the activity in the field is threatened by a lack of fuel, owing to the scarcity of coal. Already five or six wells have been suspended owing to a shortage of coal, where the wells are not able to secure gas. Many of the wells where operations have stopped were being watched with interest as they were test runs for new territory.

LOSE TOOLS IN ROBINSON WELL

The number 1, Sarah Robinson well was due to come in Tuesday afternoon but the tools were lost and they did not get in the sand. They expect to get to the sand this afternoon. The well is on the Sarah Robinson farm in Coshocton county and is being drilled by the Emerald Oil company.

With an unstropped blade
Seen under a powerful magnifying glass, an unstropped razor blade, after use, looks like a saw edge

With a stropped blade Stropping keeps the tiny teeth of the blade in perfect alignment, and provides a smooth keen edge for every shave

Can you average 42 good shaves from each razor blade?

—500 shaves from every dozen blades?

HOW many satisfying shaves do you get from one razor blade before it begins to pull and scrape?

On the first day, when the blade is fresh, your shave is smooth and cool. But very soon your beard begins to dull the edge. Soon the pulling and scraping become unbearable. You throw the old blade away — slip a new blade in your razor — and begin the same round again.

The real reason that blades grow dull

Under a microscope, a razor edge is seen to consist of hundreds of tiny teeth. When these teeth are in alignment, the blade is sharp. But the very first shave with a new blade bends these teeth out of alignment, and the blade begins to lose its edge.

With most safety razors, there is no way to smooth the delicate teeth back into alignment. The original smooth, fine edge of the blade grows rougher with every shave.

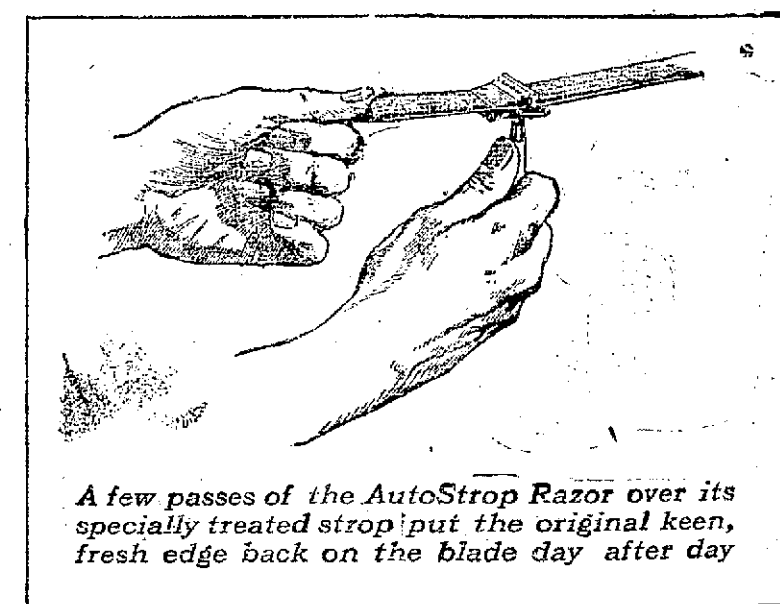

Today there is one safety razor that gives you a fresh, keen edge for every shave. With the AutoStrop Razor you will get 500 cool, clean shaves from every dozen blades — an average of 42 satisfying shaves from each blade.

Like having a new blade for every shave

Built right into the frame of the AutoStrop Razor is a remarkably simple self-stropping device which keeps the blade keen-edged as when new — day after day. It smooths the tiny teeth of the blade into perfect alignment, and gives you a freshly-sharpened blade in a few seconds — without taking the razor apart or removing the blade.

All the comfort of a fresh blade every day — that's what the AutoStrop Razor means for you! It ends all the many shaving troubles due to dulled or dulling blades — "pull," aftersmart, tender spots on the face. Morning after morning it gives you a smooth, comfortable shave with a keen, freshly-stropped edge.

The AutoStrop Razor is the only safety razor that sharpens itself, shaves, and cleans without removing a single part. A touch of the thumb adjusts the blade for close, medium, or light shaving.

A few passes of the AutoStrop Razor over its specially treated strop put the original keen, fresh edge back on the blade day after day

Don't put up any longer with the scrape and smart of fast dulling blades. Begin tomorrow to get the comfort of a fresh, keen edge for every shave. Ask your dealer today about the AutoStrop Razor free trial plan.

WOMEN IN CHURCH WORK.

A protest was made at the recent National Council of Congregational churches, against the custom by which women's chief function in the churches is the conducting of fairs and bazaars. It was complained that the energy of the women was so taken up by these inefficient and burdensome enterprises, that they have no energy left for the educational and spiritual functions of the church.

In two years church work has completely changed. Heavy suppers and running social and political affairs. They would take 50 cents worth of food and 10 cents worth of labor, sell it at a church supper for 25 cents and pocket the difference.

The men of the churches were urged to take the church out of the hands of the women. This suggestion was met with a cold shoulder. The men were told to go on after the manner of the men in the business world. The men had money and the women had no money.

This would set the time of the women's work. The men would be in charge of the church work. The women would be in charge of the social and political work. The men would be in charge of the church work. The women would be in charge of the social and political work. The men would be in charge of the church work. The women would be in charge of the social and political work.

HOME TOWN FEELING.

Every citizen of Newark is going to receive some benefit from any advance of prosperity that comes to the town. He then becomes to some extent a partner in every legitimate enterprise promoted in the town.

The most practical and immediate thing that the individual citizen can do to advance his own interest, is to look up with his patronage the stores of his own town. The more he helps them grow, the less expensively they can do business, the better service they can give.

Every local business man is an active promoter and booster for his home town. When you assist him to grow into a bigger business, you put him in a better position to promote the interests of the community. The home merchant is the backbone of every civic movement. Promoting home trade means promoting every good cause in Newark.

CHURCH ADVERTISING.

The department of publicity of the Presbyterian church is the first in the country to undertake systematically to educate churches up to regular newspaper advertising. This department, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York City, has just opened a western office at 17 North State Street, Chicago, with Herbert H. Smith in charge. The special work of this office will be the development of this plan of systematic newspaper advertising by the Presbyterian churches.

Mr. Smith was formerly managing editor of the Continent of Chicago and prior to that was engaged in daily newspaper work. He has specialized in church advertising. He is the author of a book on the subject and has given lectures on it in McCormick Theological Seminary.

Already Presbyterian churches are doing a great deal of newspaper advertising and are responding rapidly to the work of the Presbyterian department of publicity along this line. So great has been this response that it has become necessary to open this western office. A short time ago church advertising was unknown. In many communities today it is a forceful factor. And why not? Does anybody deny that it pays to advertise? And hasn't a chance something to "sell" just as well as the merchant, the banker and the manufacturer?

Some people who think they are bigger than the law, should remember what became of Kaiser Bill, who recently entertained similar views.

to the man who does small things better than any one else.

Never give way to a groan. Every man with a good mind will allow himself to get into such a condition often. Never complain or redden your cheeks, each time you do so injures yourself and hampers you to the very end with whom you would share your troubles. When you are in the kind of trouble, cheerfulness and kind words will win you friends in a circle of harmony. A happy attitude of mind will communicate itself to those with whom you come in contact. Problems will be solved and dire threatening situations will vanish before the invigorating light of harmony. Remember there is prosperity enough in this world to go around to you if you will make use of every little opportunity you have daily.
The little opportunities may really be the big opportunity you have been longing for all your life. Give big attention to little things; do more than you are expected to do. Big things are offered to the man who does small things better than any one else.

PROMINENT WOMEN OF OHIO

Conneaut, Ohio:—"I used to suffer severely, my back and limbs would ache terribly and I had bearing-down pains until 'Favorite Prescription' cured me. I consider Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription unequalled as a medicine for ailing women. I have recommended it many times and shall continue to do so."—Mrs. Wm. E. A. H. A. 430 Washington St.

Bryan, Ohio:—"I had feminine weakness very badly, and also suffered from varicose veins. I would have severe backaches, pains in my side and bearing-down pains. I could not eat or sleep and was extremely nervous. I was in an awful state when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and from the very beginning of my taking this medicine I commenced to improve and in time I was completely cured of my ailment and I have been well and healthy ever since."

"There is nothing so good for weak women as 'Favorite Prescription' and I take pleasure in recommending it to other weak and ailing women."—Mrs. JOHN BISHOP, 334 N. Garden St.

Cleveland, Ohio:—"During all of my married life I have depended upon Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to keep me strong and well. It has been especially beneficial to me during motherhood, and I know it prevented suffering. As a woman's tonic I consider 'Favorite Prescription' unexcelled, and wish I could urge every woman who is at all run-down, weak or nervous to try just one bottle to prove its worth."—Mrs. RENA RUTENBERG, 1209 E. 80th St.

The Roman Fare.
The Roman soldiers, who built such wonderful roads and carried a weight of armor and baggage, lived on coarse brown bread and sour wine. They were temperate in diet and regular and constant in exercise. The Spanish peasant works every day and dances half the night, yet eats only black bread, onion and water lemon.

Kitchen middens are great mounds, some 100 feet long and 250 feet wide, found in Denmark, England, Scotland, France and in parts of Europe, North and South America and Australia. They are supposed to be the refuse heaps of prehistoric periods, and are composed chiefly of oyster, periwinkle, cockle and mussel shells. In them are found implements of wood, stone, bones of animals and cinders.

Oscar Egg.

Nowadays when fortunes are asked for eggs it doesn't surprise a person to learn that cablegrams are now paid without a wink in transactions to obtain them. Oscar Egg, famous bicycle racer, now in Europe, has been signed up by cable to race in this country. He will take part in the annual six-day race at Madison Square Garden this winter. He was one of the sensations of the event last year.

When Are You Twenty-One?
Blackstone says: "Full age in male or female is twenty-one years, which age is completed on the day preceding the anniversary of a person's birth, who, till that time, is an infant and so styled in law." Chief Justice Shawwood held that "If a man is born on the 16th day of February, he is of age to do any legal act on the morning of the 15th of February, though he may not have lived 21 years, by nearly 48 hours. The reason assigned is that in law there is no fraction of a day; and if the birth were on the last second of one day and the act on the first second of the preceding day 21 years after, then 21 years would be complete; and in the law it is the same whether a thing is done upon one moment of the day or another." A person is of full age the day before the twenty-first anniversary of his birthday.

Dove Valuable in Warfare.
It is odd to realize the practical use of the dove, generally accepted as the symbol of peace, in carrying on war, and it has probably surprised many people to learn that the homing pigeon differs materially from the carrier pigeon so long associated with the bearing of messages. As a matter of fact, the carrier pigeon has practically ceased carrying and is nowadays raised for its fine looks rather than its homing instinct. The homing pigeon used in the United States army and navy is of another type, which has been trained through many generations to fly. Training begins when the birds are about three months old, and the flying distances are gradually increased to 500 miles, when the bird is held to be qualified for real work.

Talk is cheap, but it is generally easier to talk a man up than to talk him down.

Value of Decision.
The palm of victory goes to the man of decision. The great success of Napoleon was due to his quickness of perception and his determination of action. His keen eyes took in situations at a glance and an alert brain gave quick decisions. The result was that while his enemies were debating the course to take he was already preparing to block the way. The rapid strides to the zenith of his power were possible because of his rapid decisions and determined will. They made him the idol of the army and the forces under him were almost invincible. His final defeat was not due to the failure of his decision but to false information. Had his guide known the ground at Waterloo, world history might have been different.

BY ASSISTANT SCOUTMASTER F. W. MYERS, JR.

I think it was about two months ago that Scoutmaster Gilbert made the announcement at our regular weekly meeting that a large silver cup had been offered by George N. Fenberg for the winning troop at a Scout field meet, to be held in the near future, between the troops of Newark and Zanesville. Scouts of Troop 6 hailed this event gloriously and immediately made up our minds to go after that cup strong for, you see, we needed something to decorate our meeting room with anyway, and what could be better than a silver cup? Therefore, we declared ourselves one and all with Scoutmaster Gilbert to win that field meet.

At the next meeting, practice started in earnest. Everybody practiced everything in general and nothing in particular! It took a few more meetings for the scoutmaster to finally sift out those who would take part in the finale, as it were, or rather in the event. And then those scouts practiced every meeting night, and other nights too, until the day of the meet, Tuesday, November 11.

Harry Bowers, formerly familiarly known as "Red" (is it necessary to say why?) had his little squad, consisting of "Bob" Gracer, "Dan" Wilson, "Shrimp" Schrier, Hunter Kellenberger and Walter Scott (who was "patient" both during the long practices and while he lay on the stretcher) up to perfection in a short time. Most of these scouts used borrowed equipment until nearly time for the field day, owing to the fact that their coats, etc., were all in the "wash." For instance, someone used our scoutmaster's coat (which was much too large for him) and others used their fellow scouts' belts, etc. In the latter cases, embarrassing moments were avoided by putting their hands in their pockets. For all of that, however, on the last night of practice, they bandaged up a broken leg so that it passed the inspection of Doc Steadman, made a stretcher, placed their "patient" upon it, ran 15 yards, set the stretcher on the floor and lifted the patient off, in two minutes and 15 3-5 seconds by the stop-watch.

"Pretty good work," sez I to Scout Executive Brown, who happened to be there, and he sez: "If Zanesville can beat that, I'd like to see it." Believe me! He wasn't the only one who would have liked to see them do either. "Red" and "Shrimp" Quinn practiced signalling a bit but our hopes had rather died down in "Shrimp" for he did not seem to know the code, nor could he find any evidence of his having practiced it after becoming a second class scout. However, he must have been "stringing" us for both "Red" and he came in first at the field meet.

One or two of us scouts did not want to take part in the meet and were not very keen about it when Scoutmaster Gilbert announced that we had been selected to take part in certain events. For instance, "Jimmie" Franklin was to be in the "banding" contest, against his will, judging from the muttered, indignant protests every time he was asked whether he had been practicing. Naturally, we were not surprised when "Jimmie" forgot his bucket, in which he was supposed to boil the water, and was disqualified at the meet on that account. However, at the next one, I'll bet "Jimmie" will take the prize in that particular event. "Bob," "Dan," "Shrimp" and "Red" had all their equipment with them and piled up their wood, etc. Then they waited for the word to start but, as none came, and the Zanesville Scouts had always applied matches to their pipes, our representatives got busy of course, they had lost considerable time waiting for the word to start. This misunderstanding undoubtedly caused our fellows to lose out.

"Shrimp," "Bob" and "Red" were all entered in the knot tying contest but did not have a general practice until last meeting before Nov. 11. Then "Red" tied 31 knots in eight minutes while "Bob" and "Shrimp" tied 27 and 26 knots respectively. However, the next day "Red" tied thirty-four knots in eight minutes and was only beaten by three knots, for the Zanesville scout only tied 31 in the same length of time. "Red" could have equalled that if he had known that a single knot and a double bow line could be called knots. However, "least said, the soonest mended."

"Red" took most of the prizes at the big celebration. That day opened the eyes to a great many things, one of which was that "Red" was such a big "hog" that wanted to take all the points himself, and the other troops only scored after he had taken the lion's share. "Billy" Woodbridge had SOME horses to ride in the pony express race. The way it looked at practice, they were all bronchos as they were always throwing him off but at the field meet we found they were mostly geldings and all of them had a blue ribbon for speed. Of course, the rest of our competitors did not have a show as some of them even had truck horses. If you ever come across Harry Bowers Shrimp Quinn, Dan Kibler, Hunter Kellenberger and Bill Jakevny running, just assured that they have some speed for they are the ones who brought victory to "Billy" or "Billy" to victory. In the hand bandage and freeman's lift, "Bob," "Red," Stewart Chapman and "Dan" did some hard practicing and won easily in the contest, especially as one of Zanesville's representatives tied such a "good" bandage that it fell off as he ran back to the goal. Tough luck—for them. Especially as "Dan" had made a trial run the night before, putting on a bandage and carrying his "patient" ten yards in 27 2-5 seconds. Harry was a close second, though.

Our sure winners in the dressing contest, "Jimmie" Coyne, "Jimmie" and Walter Sertles, Ben Dash and Bob Gracer, did not have a chance to show their mettle because this stunt was called off on account of darkness. For the benefit of the uninformed, this contest consisted of removing the hat, coat, one legging then the other, one shoe and then the other and putting each back on so as to pass inspection, running ten yards before taking off or putting on each article of clothing.

When, about a o'clock, and during the last event, we were all called into the grand stand, there was no doubt in the minds of the members of Troop Six as to who was going to get that cup and also most of those prizes. When our scoutmaster received the cup we gave an awful cheer just to show people that we were not tired in the least. That night we all met in our meeting room and discussed the events while "Tommy" Jones, our treasurer, went after "movie" tickets, in order that we might celebrate the "end of a perfect day."

Zanesville has threatened to get that cup from us at the next meet, but, as they proved to be such mighty good losers, we are anxious to let them show their ability in that line again.

Washington, Nov. 18—Attorney General Palmer was asked in a resolution adopted yesterday by the house to report by what authority he fixed prices of Louisiana sugar and why he "discriminated" between the Louisiana and other crops in fixing prices.

Our Boys and Girls

The sensitive, nervous nature of most children makes them shrink in fear and excitement from all harsh language. If then the stuttering tones of such children are touched off by the face of a quick, sharp reprimand, there need be little expectation of a cessation of the stuttering habit. On the contrary, the very irritation that the reprimand produces, leaves an indelible impress on the brain of a child, which stamps the stuttering firmly into the tissues as a fixed habit.

As soon as the attention of a parent is attracted to the repetition of letters, syllables, words or whenever you notice words pronounced wrong, interrupt the child gently and sweetly and, in an ingratiating manner, stop him from talking and calmly show him how to guard against the dangers of continuing such manner of utterances. Molasses cornbolls for the children will bring them much happiness and will not harm them. Pop the corn and then take out all the kernels that do not pop. Boil two cups of molasses, quarter of a cup of sugar, half a cup of water and as much butter as you can spare until it is brittle when dropped into cold water. Then add half a teaspoonful of soda. Pour over corn and immediately make up into balls, pressing each one firmly to make them hold together.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] It may be generally stated that whatever is good for a man, is good for a cow or a hog. They do not love stale water, nor spoiled food, nor do they thrive under unsanitary conditions.

Any veterinary will tell you that unless a stable is kept thoroughly clean and frequently disinfected, your animal will be subject to all sorts of diseases and discomforts. Where there have been contagious diseases such as glanders, tuberculosis, anthrax, contagious abortion, hog cholera, etc., special care must be taken to make the stables safe for the future.

First, remove all loose material and litter and then scrub the walls, floors, mangers and all woodwork and trenches with a solution of one pint of formaldehyde to two gallons of water. A little lime added to the solution to make a weak whitewash will help to indicate places which have been covered with the solution. Be careful to spray all cracks and crevices.

Formaldehyde has the property of combining with the ammonia gases of the stable and helps to purify the air. If the stable can be made tight, it may be fumigated with formaldehyde candles or by vaporizing formaldehyde with crystals of permanganate of potash. It is of course necessary when so fumigating to take all animals out beforehand.

This treatment will also act as a true deodorant which does not merely mask one odor with another. Be careful to buy your formaldehyde of full strength and use according to directions. A dose is a dose.

Especially warm is the tribute he paid the nurses in the hospitals—the home-like atmosphere of the small hospital in Suffolk, housing from 25 to 30 patients, being mentioned as one of the brightest of his memories. Denison graduates and former students as well as those now in school, keep in close touch with the affairs of the educational institutions in Granville through the columns of the Denisonian, the college paper, which is published weekly through the college year. The preparation of copy for each week's issue furnishes valuable experience to the college students. The paper this year is being issued under the direction of David Owen as editor-in-chief and Helmer L. Webb, assistant editor.

Besides his duties as editor-in-chief of the Denisonian, Webb is an assistant in the department of history, president of the Y. M. C. During the war he was a second lieutenant in infantry, being stationed at the University of Michigan.

WILL PRESENT 2 FRENCH COMEDIES

Modern Language Department Will Produce Plays Under Direction of Miss Gertrude Robinson, Instructor.

Under the direction of Miss Gertrude Robinson, instructor at Denison University, the modern language department of the university is soon to produce two French comedies—"Les Précieuses Ridicules" and "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" of Moliere.

Miss Robinson has had a wide experience as coach in college dramatics. She worked at the Ohio State University under Professor Walter Pogue, who has now given up college teaching to become chief translator and interpreter for the covenant of the League of Nations. In 1917, she organized the production of "Indian Summer," a translation from the French of Melville and Halevy, given that year by the Freshman class.

Miss Robinson declares that she has some very good material with which to work in getting up the two plays. She mentioned four students who have especially good French pronunciation, one, a young woman of French parentage, and three young men who were in France during the war.

The drama has interested Miss Robinson from her childhood, when she took part in various kinds of amateur performances. Her interest was inspired by her father, who constantly quoted and impersonated characters from Shakespeare. Her first participation in a French play was during her sophomore year at the university. She has been in five, and has studied, coached and presented plays at Ohio State for several years prior to coming to Denison. At one time she coached her own dramatization of Mary Wilkin Freeman's story of "The Gala Dress" but illness prevented its presentation.

Besides her dramatization of "The Gala Dress," Miss Robinson wrote "The Coward," an entirely original piece of work. Neither of the two plays has been presented. Miss Robinson says she has done a good deal of writing but she feels that, as yet, she has achieved nothing worthy of publication.

Although Miss Robinson has never acted as a professional stage actress, taking part in amateur dramatics. She says she can act best in character and comedy roles.

Last summer she took part in "Neighbors," a dramatization of Zola's story presented during the Methodist Centenary at Columbus.

Miss Robinson admires Mme. Bernhardt, E. H. Sothern, Maxine Elliott and Maude Adams.

She thinks that the motion picture is a wonderful medium for presenting plays, but that it can not surpass the legitimate stage, at least one reason being that the exaggerated facial motions with which the actors disguise themselves in their efforts to give the desired impression to the audience can not take the place of the human voice.

A Broadway resident asks if there is any way of abating the nuisance of having one's sidewalk and lawn deluged with bits of paper, torn envelopes and paper bags, which annoy to roll from one end of the street to the other.

Why can not Granville have numbers on the houses? Does a town need to have free mail delivery before it can have numbers?

"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS"

Comes to the Granville Opera House for one day matinee and night Wednesday, November 26th.

Harold Bell Wright's novel has made a great popularity. To all lovers of the book this is not surprising. The story is filled with dramatic situations and poetically the magnitude of God's own handwork is ever before us. The woods and the hills always appeal to a real man or woman and in this play the really great things of life are brought to our understanding as clear as the water from the mountain springs which are ever before our eyes. It is the visualization of the story of the Ozark mountains and their humble dwellers. The story of the man who took the trail that leads to the lower ground and the woman who found her way to the sunlit plains. Mr. Wright has directed the work of this play which has been a year in the making. It is shown in ten reels and forms an evening's entertainment.

DENISON PLAYS KENYON IN NEWARK NOV. 27

For the first time in years the old-time rivals, Denison and Kenyon, are to meet on the football gridiron. The game is to be played in Newark on White athletic field on Thanksgiving day at 2:15 o'clock.

A committee of four men, two alumni of Kenyon and two from Denison, are arranging plans for the big game which promises to attract a large crowd. Meetings of both Kenyon and Denison alumni are to be held within the next few days for the purpose of stimulating interest in the coming contest. Admission to the game has been fixed at 50 cents. This popular price was established in order to draw a large crowd to White Field on Thanksgiving day. The battle scheduled for Nov. 27 will be well worth seeing. It will be the real thing.

SHIPLEY FINDS AUTO STOLEN BY BURGLARS

Marshall Joe Shipley has rounded up another stolen car and brought it into Granville. It was yesterday morning that the marshal received word from Delmont Case that an abandoned Ford, with flat tires and no gas, was standing by the roadside near his farm, about five miles out on the Columbus road. Marshall Shipley and mechanic identified the car by the license number, 250752, as belonging to Harry Carver, of Thornville, and the theory is that the burglar who looted the store of Rutledge Brothers in that place Sunday night stole the car, and made a getaway. Running out of gas and with a flat tire they probably abandoned the car to its fate. In supplying these deficiencies the car was run on its own power and the owner notified. Mr. Shipley requests that any one noticing an idle car anywhere, ring him up as he is in receipt of scores of notices daily of stolen cars. His phone number is 8178.

LEFT FARM TO ENTER GROCERY BUSINESS

Charles J. Wright struck out for himself when a young man, by leaving the farm of his father and coming to Granville and entering the grocery store of L. W. Perry as clerk. Farm products at that time were at the lowest ebb in point of price and farm life offered small opportunity to any ambitious young man who wanted to accumulate a bank balance. After several years as a clerk, he joined with his cousin, Edwin Wright, in the purchase about 17 years ago of the old established stand known for years as Carter & Carter, then owned by Burton Case. They operated the store under the firm name of Wright & Wright until the withdrawal of E. E. Wright to engage in the automobile business. The ownership and management fell to Charles J. Wright. By close attention to business, by up-to-date methods, by the merit of the goods offered his customers and by the never failing courtesy extended, Mr. Wright has enjoyed a gratifying success in this small community. Competition is keen even in this small town, but C. J. Wright holds his own. The work of the church and the Masonic lodge engage all the time he has to bestow on interests outside business. He is chairman of the board of trustees of the Baptist church and master of Center Star lodge, F. and A. M. Mrs. Wright was formerly Miss Blanche Morehead of McKean township.

The Literary Scales.

Before he can tell what audiences he truly prefers the student should have tried all that are possible; before he can choose and preserve a fitting key of words, he should have long practiced the literary scales; and it is only after years of such gymnastics that he can sit down at last, legions of words swarming to his call, dozens of turns of phrases simultaneously bidding for his choice, and he, himself knowing what he wants to do and (within the narrow limit of a man's ability) able to do it.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

ALASKANS ARE MAKING GOOD
They Show Marked Inclination Toward Good Citizenship and Patriotism.

What the Alaska natives are doing and are willing to do as proof positive of their fitness to live under the Stars and Stripes is impressed on all who come in contact with the natives and their numerous activities along lines of advanced citizenship and patriotism.

By way of a minor illustration that shows which way the wind blows with them: The natives in Juneau, through the press, advocated the killing of dogs, that there might be more food for human consumption. They advised their native friends to protect the deer from their dogs that might kill deer during their helpless condition following this last winter's deep snows, when many starved and all were weakened for lack of food.

Down at Kake the natives have only about one-third to one-quarter the number of dogs that they had last year. One who went through the village last fall and again this spring remarked on the fact that there were almost no dogs in town.

"Yes," said a representative citizen, "the natives became convinced that from a sanitary standpoint and an economical standpoint they were keeping too many pets. As a result of this conviction they began reducing on dogs and improving on health and food supply."

Another point that impresses even a casual observer is that the natives all take local newspapers and read carefully—often very slowly—the events that are taking place locally and throughout the world. If a native is not a regular subscriber to a newspaper, you may be sure it is because he cannot read one word of English or any other printed language.

Victory Arch of the Tongans.
The ancient Tongans must have had occasion to erect a "victory arch" at one time or another, for not far from these tombs of royalty is found an arch made of two gigantic stone uprights which support another gigantic stone for a cross member carefully mortised into place. The Tongans made certain that their victory arch would hold together for the safe passage of their Twenty-seventh division.

Some authorities claim that this particular arch was not made by the Tongans at all, but by their predecessors in the islands. Perhaps so, but whoever the people were who set up this arch they possessed mechanical ability, for the uprights are sixteen feet high, twelve feet wide and five feet thick, and the stone across the top is only slightly smaller in thickness.

For Dull Mirrors.
If mirrors be very dull and speckled, the following method is excellent: Take a small portion of whiting and add sufficient cold tea to make a paste; rub the glass with warm tea, dry with a soft cloth; rub a little of the paste well on the mirror and polish dry with tissue paper.

Notice to Property Owners.
Notice is hereby given that a petition by an owner of a lot abutting on Indiana Street, between Front Street and the bridge over the North Fork of the Licking River has been presented to the Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, praying for the narrowing of Indiana Street by vacating the following described parts:

All of said Street between said points except a strip of ground twenty feet wide which is described as follows: Commencing at a point in the east line of Front Street one hundred and seventy-five and seventy-five hundredths feet north of the north line of Church Street, thence easterly to the North Fork of Licking River at a point thirty feet south of the center line of the bridge, thence northerly along said North Fork of Licking River sixty feet, thence westerly to the east line of Front Street at a point thirty feet north from the point of beginning, thence southerly along the east line of Front Street to the point of beginning, and that said petition is now pending before said council and final action thereon according to law will be taken on and after January 5, 1920.

TAG DAY RECEIPTS GO TO LIBRARY

Every Cent Collected By High School Girls Saturday Will Be Used to Purchase New Books.

For several years the young women of the Thalian Literary society of the High school have turned their efforts toward substantially helping the Public Library. Saturday, they will put a force of girls on the downtown streets, who will sell tags for any price and wishes to pay. Every cent received from the sale of these tags will be used for the purchase of books for the library.

High school pupils make great demands upon the library, and it is the wish of those in authority that these demands be met promptly and suitably. To do this new books must be constantly purchased. "The part the Thalian girls play to help in the work is earning for them the right to be known as good citizens," said a Newark woman Wednesday. "Newark people should meet them as such and encourage them by a willingness to purchase their tags."

"Any merchant, manufacturer, or citizen wishing to give one or several of the captains a start for her tag day bank may telephone the high school or the captain herself and she will gladly call for any donation."

"Let every one remember in buying a tag that the price of books, like the price of butter and eggs, is constantly advancing."

Following is a list of the officers of the Thalian society for this year, also the names of the young ladies who will act as captains of the teams.

Officers: President, Miss Gwendolyn Davies; vice president, Sarah McConnell; secretary, Miss Marie Dodd, treasurer, Miss Mildred Ditter; chaplain, Miss Elizabeth East; sergeant-at-arms, Mary Windle and Edna Griffith; critic, Miss Janet Jones and Miss Booth. The captains for tag day are: Ruth Rogers, Charlotte Knauss, Mary Rose, Miss Gwendolyn Davies, Marie Rothstein, Katherine McMillen, Mildred Ditter, Geneva Frye, Janice Burack, Dorothy Broom, Sarah McConnell, Frances Carlin, Irene Hughes, Marie Dodd, Helen Friedmann, Mildred Ditter, Anna Leidy, Emeline Clouse, Florence Long, Mary Windle, Edna Griffith, Elizabeth East.

Milady's Boudoir

Many women make their baths too lengthy a function, with the result that not only the skin, but the whole system, becomes enervated. The real hot bath should be taken quickly, followed by a sponge down or a shower of cold or tepid water and a brisk rubdown, to promote the circulation.

After long exercise, or when one is tired, and especially for sufferers from colds, rheumatism or neuralgia, a mustard bath is a wonderful tonic. Simply dissolve two or three tablespoons of dry mustard in the bath water and you will find that after the bath you will notice a great improvement in your feelings.

Two brushes for use in the bathrooms are particularly good. One is the bath brush, with the bristles mounted in a convex form adapted to the contour of the tub. The handle should be long enough to enable one to scour the tub without stooping over.

The other brush is cleverly contrived to clean the basin of the toilet closet more thoroughly than the usual mop or cloth. The brush is round and has very stiff bristles, but its special ingenuity consists in the spring which attaches the brush to its handle. This is a stout wire bending in any direction, and its pliability permits the brush to reach every part of the basin, even some distance down the turn of the drain pipe. The hands, by the use of these brushes, can be kept in good condition as they never have to come in contact with the water.

"PAL" GOOD WORD, BUT SLANG

Term in Good Society Accepted as Meaning "Chum;" in Vocabulary of Crime Stands for Accomplice.

The dictionary recognizes the right of "pal" to inclusion in our language, though designating it as slang. Like many words thus classed, it is a terse way of expressing a relationship readily understood but not so easily defined. In good society it is accepted as meaning a chum, a congenial companion; in the vocabulary of crime it stands for a confederate or accomplice.

The most natural and instinctive thing in life is a desire for congenial companionship; only the abnormally developed mentality can live on a sufficiently exalted—or shall we say self-centered—plane as to other personalities.

A pal is an intimate friend of either sex, to whom one may "talk as the heart beats," may confide hopes, fears, happiness and disappointments, certain the trust will not be betrayed. Between opposite sexes is excluded lovenaking or "spooring," but means a broad, intelligent, faithful, yet subtle friendship, since all friends are not pals; not necessarily a unanimity of opinion, but a disposition to "agree to disagree" in case of differences. There is a tacit respect for each other's individuality.

Perhaps one of the best tests of a pal is that the two enjoy silence together; there is a sense of companionship in being together without the constant trickle of words which would of us feel necessary unless one would be thought unsocial.—Detroit Free Press.

WOMAN, 80, WORKED IN MINES

Grandmother, Yet Able to Be on the Job Ten Hours a Day, Toiling Like a Man.

Mrs. Bridget McHugh, the oldest "pit-brow" woman in the Pemberton, Eng., coal field, is dead at the age of 80 years. For more than half a century she had worked at the mines.

"Old Bridget," as Mrs. McHugh was familiarly called, was a hale and hearty, strongly built woman who could use a shovel in filling mine cars as well as any man, and was always looked upon as an expert pit-brow worker, few being her equal. The shorter working day was unknown to her, and summer and winter, rain or shine, she was accustomed to leave home at five o'clock every morning, and was in her place at the coal bank before the whistle sounded at six. Her day continued until five or six at night. Mrs. McHugh was a grandmother, and two of her sons are employed in the colliery where she worked so long.

Crystals of Unlimited Size.

Artificial crystals of great regularity and clearness, and of almost unlimited size, are claimed as products of the perfected process of R. W. Moore, an American physicist. The usual growing of crystals consists in evaporating the solution in which a little crystal is suspended as a nucleus. In the new method, the solution is kept slightly supersaturated, and the growth continues as long as this condition is maintained. Crystals of Rochelle salt (sodium-potassium tartrate) more than three inches long and two inches thick have been produced, with all surfaces and angles perfect. This salt is most soluble in hot water, and supersaturation is obtained by dissolving in hot water, and slightly cooling. With the aid of a thermostat the temperature is so regulated as to keep up the supersaturated condition. The seed crystal is suspended in the solution of the material, and growth is said to continue indefinitely with efficient control.

For Better Education.

The honors for literacy must, alas, go to Germany, where the literacy percentage is far less than one! England follows close behind. But in the United States nearly 6 per cent of the people can neither read nor write our language. This sounds bad, but it really isn't when you consider our heavy immigration.

Educational bureaus throughout the country are constantly bettering conditions, for greater literacy means greater labor production. In many countries traveling libraries are sent out—wagons fitted up with book shelves.

But careful education of the children is the most important branch of it, and so many cities provide conveniences for crippled children to go to school in.

When we consider that India and Egypt are over 92 per cent illiterate, our fast decreasing six looks very small.—Popular Science Monthly.

Mexico's Pyramids.

Archaeological investigations by a governmental commission to solve the mystery of who built the great pyramids at San Juan Teotihuacan, 27 miles from Mexico City, says the Detroit News, have brought to light two great granite heads of the ancient Mexican god of the air, Quetzalcoatl. These heads are almost perfect specimens, bearing all the symbolic markings. The long-disputed point as to who erected the pyramids is, as yet, unsolved. These huge mounds, one to the sun and the other to the moon, the former being 761 by 721 feet at the base and 21½ feet high, are generally attributed to a tribe that preceded the Toltecs, probably dating from about the sixth century.

Heat in your engine causes sediment. Sediment causes a definite loss in power, as well as increased cost for oil and worn parts in your engine. The increased cost may not be immediately evident, but it is certain. Veedol prevents formation of sediment because it resists heat. The Faulkner Process, used exclusively in the manufacture of Veedol, causes 80 per cent less sediment. This has been repeatedly proven in scientific and practical tests. Veedol will reduce the upkeep of your car. Try it the next time you buy motor oil. We carry a complete stock of Veedol Oils—Light, Medium, Heavy and Special Heavy—in one-gallon cans, five-gallon cans and barrels.
